Tesla and the Electric Car

The electric car adoption has been greatly accelerated by the startup company named Tesla. This upstart car company, as of July 1, 2020, is "the most valuable car company in the world" and has redefined electric cars.

But why is Tesla so popular? How is Tesla's approach different from Ford's? Isn't an electric car just a different motor in a normal car? How does driving an electric car differ from driving an ICE (internal combustion engine) car? How is an electric car different, or the same as an ICE car?

Our John Moore will discuss these questions and others at the upcoming General Meeting online on June 3.

HURRAH FOR OUR EDITORS!

We recently learned that APCUG awarded the editorial staff of the “Westchester PC News” and the “Weekly Update” with these medallions for 1st and 3rd place finishes in their annual competitions.

We think we have bragging rights!
